

LEGITIMATION AND PATERNITY

These two often-related actions arise when the parents of a child are not married. The relief may include an award of child support, custody and visitation rights, and the child's right to inherit from his or her father.